Privacy Policy

Krungthai-AXA Life Insurance Public Company Limited (“KTAXA”) committed to ensuring your privacy and personal information is protected. The document that referred you to this notice (for example, your insurance policy) shall set out details of KTAXA that is collecting, using and/or disclosing your personal information; it is the data controller of your personal information and is responsible for complying with the Thai Personal Data Protection Act and any amendments, rules or regulations issued under such Act (“PDPA”). For the purposes of this Privacy Policy, references to "we" or "us" shall refer to KTAXA.

This Privacy Policy should be brought to the attention of any party who is included in your Policy, where they have given you consent to act on their behalf.

By providing your personal information or the personal information of someone included in your policy, you acknowledge that we may use it only in the ways set out in this Privacy Policy. We may provide you with further notices highlighting certain uses we wish to make of your personal information.

From time to time we may need to make changes to this Privacy Policy, for example, as the result of government regulation, new technologies, or other developments in data protection laws or privacy generally. You should check KTAXA website periodically to view the most up to date Privacy Policy.

1. Our Privacy Principles

When we collect and use your personal information, we ensure we look after it properly and use it in accordance with our privacy principles set out below, keep it safe and will never sell it.

2. How do we collect your personal information?

Whilst there are a number of ways in which we collect your personal information, the two main ways we might collect personal information about you are from things you tell us yourself, and from things we ask other people or organisations to share with us. Things you tell us could include conversations we have on the phone, what you've written on an application form or if you post something on one of our forums. We might also collect information about you from other people and organisations, such as medical professionals and credit agencies, or by checking databases. Please see below for a list of ways we collect your personal information:

We collect personal information directly from you:

- via enquiry, registration and claim forms;
- via feedback forms and forums;
- when you purchase any of our products or services;
- when you fill out a survey on our website;
- through quotes and application forms;
- via cookies.
- via our telephone calls with you, which may be recorded;
- when you provide your details to us either online or offline;

We also collect your personal information from a number of different sources including:

- from social media; and
- Other third parties including:
 - your family members where you may be incapacitated or unable to provide information relevant to your policy;
 - medical professionals and hospitals;
 - third parties who assist us in checking that claims are eligible for payment;
 - third parties such as companies who provide consumer classification for marketing purposes e.g. market segmentation data; and
 - third parties who provide information which may be used by KTAXA to inform its risk selection, pricing and underwriting decisions

3. What personal information do we collect?

We might collect personal information, such as your contact details, information about your bank or credit cards. The information we collect depends on which product or service you're interested in for example if you are interested in obtaining car or travel insurance, we'll collect information about the car you drive or where you're planning to travel to and for medical insurance, we may ask you about you or your families' medical history. Please note, in certain circumstances we may request and/or receive "sensitive" personal information about you. For example, we may need access to health records for the purposes of providing you with a policy or processing claims, or details of any court judgments for the purposes of preventing, detecting and investigating fraud. Please see below for a more detailed list of personal information we collect.

The information that we collect will depend on our relationship with you. Where other people are named on your policy, we may ask you to provide the information below in relation to those people too, if this is relevant to your insurance.

Where KTAXA is the data controller of your personal information we may collect the following about you:

- Personal information
 - contact details such as name, e-mail address, postal address and telephone number
 - details of any other persons included on the policy where they are named on your policy and the relationship to you as policyholder
 - identification information such as your date of birth, identification number, passport number
 - financial information such as bank details, credit card details and information obtained as a result of our credit checks
 - information relevant to your insurance policy such as details about your previous policies or claims
 - information relevant to your claim or your involvement in the matter giving rise to a claim
 - information obtained through our use of cookies.
 - your marketing preferences
 - lifestyle and social circumstances, for example; your interests, such as whether you play a sport, your housing status and number of dependents

Privacy Policy

- Sensitive personal information
 - details of your current or former physical or mental health
 - details concerning sexual life or sexual orientation, for example marital status
 - details regarding criminal offences, including alleged offences, criminal proceedings, outcomes and sentences (previous criminal convictions, bankruptcies and other financial sanctions such as court judgements)

4. How do we use your personal information?

We mainly use your personal information to provide you with an insurance policy or benefits and to provide you with the right services based on your situation. So, if you have a problem, we make sure the right network of providers and specialists are in place and we can also update you quickly on the progress and cost of your claim and keep you safe from fraud. However, there are a number of other reasons why we use your personal information; please see below for a more detailed list of how we use your personal information.

We may collect your personal information for a number of different purposes, and these are set out in more detail in the below sub-sections for KTAXA where applicable. Under the PDPA, we need a reason to use and process your personal information, including sensitive personal information such as details about your health or criminal offences (“Special Categories”), and this is called a legal ground. We have set out below the main reasons why we process your personal information and the applicable circumstances when we will do so.

- Processing is necessary in order for us to provide your insurance policy and services, such as assessing your application and setting you up as a policyholder, or trust beneficiary, administering and managing your insurance policy or benefits, providing all related services, providing a quote, handling and paying claims and communicating with you. In these circumstances, if you do not provide such information, we will be unable to offer you a policy or process your claim.
- We may use Cloud storage solutions within Singapore, where KTAXA has a Data Centre, or any other designated AXA group entity (as the case may be) which are chosen to ensure efficiency and improved performance through up to date technology.
- Where we have a legal or regulatory obligation to use such personal information, for example, when our regulators, The Office of Insurance Commission, The Securities and Exchange Commission, The Anti-Money Laundering Office, our data protection regulator, and The Office of the Personal Data Protection Committee wish us to maintain certain records of any dealings with you.
- Where we need to use your personal information to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights, for example when we are faced with any legal claims or where we want to pursue any legal claims ourselves.
- Where we need to use your personal information for our legitimate interests or compliance with applicable laws, such as investigating fraudulent claims and carrying out fraud, credit and anti-money laundering checks.

Privacy Policy

- Where you have provided your consent to our use of your personal information. We will usually only ask for your consent in relation to processing your sensitive personal information (such as health data) or when providing marketing information to you (including information about other products and services). This will be made clear when you provide your personal information. If we ask for your consent, we will explain why it is necessary. Without your consent in some circumstances, we may not be able to provide you with cover under the policy or handle claims or you may not be able to benefit from some of our services. Where you provide sensitive personal information about a third party, we may ask you to confirm that the third party has provided his or her consent for you to act on their behalf.
- Where we have appropriate legitimate business need to use your personal information such as maintaining our business records all whilst ensuring that such business need does not interfere with your rights and freedoms and does not cause you any harm.
- Where we need to use your sensitive personal information such as health data because it is necessary for your vital interests, this being a life or death matter.

5. Who do we share your personal information with?

We might share your personal information with two types of organisation – companies inside the AXA Group, and other third parties outside the Group. For further details of disclosures, please see below. We won't share any of your personal information other than for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy. If we share anything outside the Group, it'll be kept strictly confidential and will only be used for reasons that we've described.

For KTAXA

Who might we disclose your personal information to?

Disclosures within our group and affiliates

In order to provide our services your personal information is shared with other companies in our group. Your personal information might be shared for our general business administration, efficiency and accuracy purposes or for the prevention and detection of fraud.

Disclosures to third parties and affiliates

We also disclose your information to the third parties listed below for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy. This might include:

- Your relatives or, guardians (on your behalf where you are incapacitated or unable) or other people or organisations associated with you such as your insurance broker or your lawyer
- Where you have named an alternative contact (such as a relative) to speak with us on your behalf. Once you have told us your alternative contact, this person will be able to discuss all aspects of your policy (including claims and cancellation) with us and make changes on your behalf.
- Our insurance partners such as our agents, i.e. agency, Financial Service Advisor (FSA), and Bancassurance, brokers, other insurers, reinsurers or other companies who act as insurance distributors.

Disclosure of your personal information to a third party outside of KTAXA will only be made where the third party has agreed to keep your information strictly confidential and shall only be used for the specific purpose for which we provide it to them.

We may also disclose your personal information to other third parties where:

- We are required or permitted to do so by law or by regulatory bodies such as where there is a court order, statutory obligation, The Office of Insurance Commission, The Securities and Exchange Commission and other relevant government authorities; or

Privacy Policy

- We believe that such disclosure is necessary in order to assist in the prevention or detection of any criminal action (including fraud) or is otherwise in the overriding public interest; or
- Exemptions under the data protection legislation allow us to do so

Some of the recipients and technical solutions set out above may be in countries outside of Thailand notably in Singapore, where KTAXA has a Data Centre, or any other designated AXA group entity as the case may be. Where we make a transfer of your personal information outside of Thailand, in all cases where personal data is transferred to a country which is deemed not to have the same standards of protection for personal data as Thailand will ensure Appropriate Safeguards have been implemented to ensure that your personal information is protected where standards are not the same or similar to those standards within Thailand. Such steps may include placing the party we are transferring personal information to under contractual obligations to protect it to adequate standards. Occasionally there may also be some circumstances where we are required to transfer your personal information outside of Thailand and we shall rely on the basis of processing it for being necessary for the performance of your contract; for example, where you have a travel insurance policy and we need to contact you when you are on holiday.

6. How long do we keep records for?

In most cases, we will keep your information for ten years after our relationship with you ends but it will vary depending on what data we hold, why we hold it and what we're obliged to do by the regulator or the law.

We keep your personal information for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the relevant purposes set out in this Privacy Policy and in order to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations. In some instances, we will minimise personal data; or de-identify data to use for statistical or analytical purposes, this activity is undertaken in accordance with data protection laws.

The time period we retain your personal information for will differ depending on the nature of the personal information and what we do with it. How long we keep personal information is primarily determined by our regulatory obligations. We typically keep quote information for ten(10) years, and policy and claims records for up to ten(10) years from the end of our relationship with you.

7. Your Rights

You can ask us to do various things with your personal information. For example, at any time you can ask us for a copy of your personal information, ask us to correct mistakes, change the way we use your information, or even delete it. We'll either do what you've asked, or explain why we can't - usually because of a legal or regulatory issue.

You have the following rights in relation to our use of your personal information.

The right to access your personal information

You are entitled to a copy of the personal information we hold about you and certain details of how we use it. There will not usually be a charge for dealing with these requests. Your personal information will usually be provided to you in writing, unless otherwise requested.

The right to rectification

We take reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information we hold about you is accurate and complete. However, if you do not believe this is the case, please contact us by using the details shown in your documentation and you can ask us to update or amend it.

The right to erasure:

In certain circumstances, you have the right to ask us to erase your personal information, for example where the personal information we collected is no longer necessary for the original purpose or where you withdraw your consent. However, this will need to be balanced against other factors, for example according to the type of personal information we hold about you and why we have collected it, there may be some legal and regulatory obligations which mean we cannot comply with your request.

Right to restriction of processing:

In certain circumstances, you are entitled to ask us to stop using your personal information, for example where you think that the personal information we hold about you may be inaccurate or where you think that we no longer need to process your personal information.

Right to data portability:

In certain circumstances, you have the right to ask that we transfer any personal information that you have provided to us to another third party of your choice. Once transferred, the other party will be responsible for looking after your personal information.

Privacy Policy

Right to object:

You have the right to object to the collection, use or disclosure of your personal information for direct marketing purposes or on grounds stipulated by law.

The right to withdraw consent:

For certain uses of your personal information, we will ask for your consent. Where we do this, you have the right to withdraw your consent to further use of your personal information. Please note in some cases we may not be able to process your insurance if you withdraw your consent.

The right to lodge a complaint

You have a right to complain to the Personal Data Protection Committee at any time if you object to the way in which we use your personal information.

You can make any of the requests set out above using the contact details provided to you in your policy documentation or the contact details of the Data Protection Officer (DPO). Please note that in some cases we may not be able to comply with your request for reasons such as our own obligations to comply with other legal or regulatory requirements. However, we will always respond to any request you make and if we can't comply with your request, we will tell you why.

In some circumstances exercising some of these rights will mean we are unable to continue providing you with cover under your insurance policy and may therefore result in the cancellation of the policy. You will therefore lose the right to bring any claim or receive any benefit under the policy, including in relation to any event that occurred before you exercised your right, if our ability to handle the claim has been prejudiced. Your policy terms and conditions set out what will happen in the event your policy is cancelled.

10. KTAXA's data privacy declaration

Your personal information can help us give you a better, more personalised service. But looking after that data is a big responsibility. We take our responsibilities seriously, so we've introduced internationally recognised data privacy rules to protect you. We keep your data safe, confidential and will never sell it. And, if you ask us to, we'll tell you exactly what information we have so you can be sure it's up-to-date and accurate.

KTAXA's mission is to help you, our customers, live your lives with more peace of mind by protecting you and your family against risks. Doing so involves the collection of data so that we understand the nature of these risks that we cover for you, and that we may provide you with the right products and services to meet your needs.

Today's world is one in which the amount of available data is growing exponentially. Ultimately, this allows us to enhance your experience through tailor-made protection, more relevant information and simplified, efficient procedures.

We believe that protecting your personal information is essential when seizing these opportunities. This is why we considered it important to share with you the principles that will guide us with regard to the treatment of personal information.

10.1 Our Commitment to Safeguard Personal information

We know that respecting the confidentiality of personal information is critical to preserving your trust and therefore have developed security procedures and we use a range of organisational and technical security measures designed to protect your personal information from unauthorized use or disclosure.

We have a Data Privacy team at a global level and a network of Data Privacy Officers throughout our businesses to oversee data safety.

10.2 Our Commitment in Respect to the Use of Personal information

We provide you with up-to-date prevention and protection solutions, we collect your personal information and use it in compliance with data protection.

We have in place procedures and contractual arrangements designed to ensure that all employees, sales representatives, advisers and service providers keep client files confidential.

Our customers often entrust us with sensitive personal information in connection with insurance coverage we provide to them - both at the time of their initial subscription and during the term of their coverage. We view ourselves as custodians of this data and do not sell it to third parties outside KTAXA. We may market products jointly with other companies in cases where we believe there is a unique or compelling value proposition for our customers.

Privacy Policy

10.3 Our Commitment to Dialogue and Transparency

As a leading international insurance group, we play a proactive role in public policy and regulatory debates around personal information protection.

These are our continuing commitments to you. We will keep pace with future developments surrounding data privacy to adapt them to your evolving needs.
